The foregoing statement of Assets and Liabilities of the "Phurnx" is presented to the careful persual and scrutiny of our patrons and the public generally feeling confident it cannot fail to impress upon the minds of all, the entire reliability, solvency, and healthy condition the Company is in.

The "Phurnx" was incorporated by the Legislature of Connecticut, under a "perpetual charter," with a Cash Capital of Two Hundred Thousand Dollars. Since its organization the Company have been doing a large, and, on the whole, a presperous business, throughout the several States of the Union, and the manner in which the affairs of the Company have been managed, has inspired unusual confidence in the minds of the public towards the "Phurnxx" so that our Policies are readily sought after. Henorable dealings, liberal and satisfactory adjustments, and prompt cash payments of all fair losess, are principles in the transaction of our affairs; and we intend so to administer our business in the future, as not only to gain, but retain, the good will, esteum, and patronage of the public.

Rayrs or Parant us are as low as uncloubted security and prompt indemnity to patrons will warrant. We cannot, nor is it our intention, to compete with "Wild Cat" companies, where whose wind easier is to get money—without for a noment imagining that every policy a Company is seen is an obligation, to which they may at any moment be called to respond. No intelligent, candid, thinking person will refuse to pay a Company a "living" rate, provided he is certain the Company is sound to the ore." While the sun is below the horizon this vaper lingues near the earth's surface, and the virus is taken with it through the lungs into the blood.— There it acts as an originating poteon on the internal viscara and exercting organs of the body. The liver becomes torpid and fails to secrete not only this virus, but also the blic from the blood. Both the virus and the blic accumulate in the circulation, and produce violent constitutional disarder. The sphere, the kidneys, and the stomach sympathies with the liver, and becomes discretized also. Finally, the bastinet of our organism, as if in an altempt to exped the noxious infusion, concentrates the whole blood of the body in the internal executories to force them to cast it out. The blood leaves the surface, and rushes to the central organs with congestive violence. This is the CINLL. But in this effort it fails. Then the FEVER follows, in which the blood leaves the central organs and rushes to the surface, as if in another of earth of expel the irritating poison through that other great exceptory—the skin. which neutralizes this malarious poison in the blood, and stimulates the liver to expel it from the blood, and stimulates the liver to expel it from the blood, and stimulates the liver to expel it from the blood, and stimulates the liver to expel it from the blood with perfect certainty. And it does more, or rather does what is of more service to those subject to this infection. If taken in season it expels it from the system as it is absorbed, and thus keeps those who use it free from its attacks, keeps the system in health although exposed to the disease. Consequently it not only cures, but protects from, the great variety of affections which are induced by this malignant influence, such as Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dunil, or Masked Ague, Periodical Headache, or Billous Headache. This it accomplishes by stimulating the exerctories to expel the virtus from the system; and these organs by degrees become habited to do this their office of their own accord.
